

When asked why they keep coming back, women say:

“What a great experience to be removed from every day stresses and placed in a soft, safe, loving environment where we can catch our breath, connect with other women and recognize we are not alone.”

“There is warmth here that you don’t even know you were missing; A void that it fills that you didn’t even know was there.”

“It is a loving, accepting, and inclusive experience where you can breathe, relax, rejoice, release, and retreat as much as you may need.”

Situated amongst farms and orchards in southern Lapeer County, Skyline’s 156 acres of rolling hills and forests are a haven from the routine and stresses of daily life. Trails wind through grassy hills, deciduous & coniferous forests, connecting you to a rich ecosystem full of wild deer, turkey, squirrels, birds and much more.

At the highest point in the county, with a sweeping view over much of the camp, three buildings make up the campus center. Focus Hall is the centerpiece of Skyline’s retreat and conference facilities. Fully winterized, it is bright and airy, has a spectacular view and 14 bedrooms accommodating up to 64 overnight guests, with full and extra-long twin beds. Focus Hall has centrally located modern tile bathrooms with showers, a large meeting room for up to 125, parlor, kitchen and fireplace.

The main residence for what was once a country estate, the Lodge, is near Focus Hall. It too is fully winterized, sleeps up to 39 in six bunkrooms, has bathrooms with showers, a large meeting room, fireplace and snack kitchen. The dining facility is only 50 yards from the Lodge and Focus Hall. Our kitchen staff lovingly prepares hearty, wholesome meals from balanced family-style menus, served buffet style, using locally grown foods whenever possible.
